

BURKE WARREN LAUNCHES REAL ESTATE BROKERAGE PRACTICE GROUP

August 23, 2021 | News

Burke, Warren, MacKay & Serritella, P.C., a full service Chicago-based law firm, is pleased to announce the launch of their new Real Estate Brokerage practice group. Leading the new practice group is Burke Warren partner Aaron Stanton, who also chairs the firm's Litigation practice group and has represented real estate brokers and agents for over two decades.

Burke Warren attorneys represent real estate professionals throughout Illinois and beyond. They counsel real estate brokers, agents and related professionals across a range of legal and administrative matters.

Burke Warren attorneys work with brokerage companies on a wide variety of issues including licensing/professional standards, policies and procedures, disclosure issues, counseling on license, legal and ethics issues to avoid litigation and regulatory complaints, representing brokers in commission disputes, ethics complaints, and lawsuits arising out of providing brokerage services, and working with startup brokers to get them licensed and up and running.

"Burke Warren fully embraces the concept that an industry as broad and complex as real estate requires a multidisciplinary legal approach," said Aaron Stanton, chair of the Litigation practice group, at Burke Warren. "The launch of our new Real Estate Brokerage practice group reflects our firm's ongoing commitment and ability to innovate in the delivery of exceptional client service in an ever-evolving marketplace."
